Oh, lay lay yourself down here
Away away from your highway It's true you've been changing So soon you're on your way again

I couldn't see your soul was broken when I couldn't hear the words unspoken And I couldn't see the way we'd never be we'd never be the same We've been lonely defeated

Oh where where did we go astray somewhere away on our highway we lose the things we need here and use the one who's waiting in Why were our dreams all left there broken and I couldn't see the way we'd chosen And I couldn't see our hearts would never be would never be the same when we're lonely defeated

Why were our dreams all left unspoken
and I couldn't see the way we'd chosen Well I cannot see this all will never be will never be the same We've been lonely defeated
