Tried to call you, must have been away
Had to write you, we didn't talk today
Must have seen you walking through my town
Have to hold you, love without a sound

I know I wont there tomorrow, baby and now
I know I wasn't there today
These times are harder than they used to be and now
Im fine if you're still thinking of me

I wish I'd found you, hiding right around me
Haven't seen you, things you said just yesterday
Seem to reason, reason with me suddenly
Ive come to find, the reason loves in front of me

I know I wont be there tomorrow, baby and now
I know I wasn't there today
These times are harder than they used to be and now
Im fine if you're still thinking of me

Im comin home now, probably wont remember me
If time were kinder you wouldve seen me yesterday
Sometimes I feel you, feel you there beneath me
Wrapped around you, you better come right into me

I know I wont be there tomorrow, baby and now
I know I wasn't there today
These times are harder than they used to be and now
Im find if you're still thinking of me
