I never think about
Never stick around
You don't even care who's watchin you
And you won't look back there
Time is tickin and life is livin right by your head
You'd better watch it and do what I said
You got to hold on to what you got
Things might fall apart
But it don't mean nothing less you stick to your ways
You got to hold on to what you got
Before you get burned
Couldn't find yourself
Blame somebody else
You never look at me straight in the eye
And you won't even ask why
You got to hold on to what you got
Things might fall apart
But it don't mean nothing less you stick to your ways
You got to hold on to what you got
Before you get burned
Must have been something
You don't even seem to mind at all
Nothing could have ever been so bad
Still don't know your name
Man, you're such a shame
Do yourself a favor,
Don't say much and just keep your mouth shut
You got to hold on to what you got
Things might fall apart
But it don't mean nothing less you stick to your way
You got to hold on to what you got
Before you get burned
You got to hold on
You got to hold on to what you got
Before you get burned
