Driven to the edge,
Now I wear the mark
Double-crossed fists that bash at the walls
Of your filthy society
Hands that will mark the end of this profanity
I have spent all of my life living in this discipline

Tear it down, build it back up stronger
Tear it down, build it back up stronger

Actions, follow words, the resistance builds
You can't, you can't hold back,
This tide much longer
Every day a battle against the zombies and their lords

But they can't,
They can't touch what's in my heart,
With their lies

Addictions, all they offer,
Temptations many falter
Addictions, all they offer,
Temptations many falter
Their bodies keep on rotting as their souls die

Actions, follow words,
The resistance builds
You can't, you can't hold back,
This tide much longer
Every day a battle against the zombies and their lords

But they can't,
They can't touch what's in my heart,
With their lies
Addictions, all they offer,
Temptations many falter
Addictions, all they offer,
Temptations many fall
