

Cursive

"Night I Lost the Will to Fight"

Visit "Night I Lost the Will to Fight" on MotoLyrics.com

I need a catalyst, to rekindle the flame
That once burned within these fists where defeat
remains

The night has fallen down the staircase...

I need a catalyst, to rekindle the flame
That once burned within these fists where defeat
remains
One February night, we screamed our agonies
And I swear I tried to care
I tried, I tried...

But the icicles hung down like prison bars...

I need a catalyst, to rekindle the flame
That once burned within these fists where defeat
remains
One February night, we screamed our agonies
And I swear I tried to care
I tried, I tried...
(And) I lost the will to fight...
The will to fight...
(I lost the will to fight... I lost the will to fight... I lost it... I lost
it...
I lost the will to fight.)

Visit Cursive page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.