Hey you, whatcha been up to?
It's been about a week or two Since I last talked to you, just wanna know what's going on
I'm chillin' in my room
I'm killin' time just thinking about you
And all those things that we've been through

The cold air's coming to take it's place
You see it coming, so embrace
The cold air's coming to take it's place
You see it coming, so embrace

And this is the coldest night of them all (coldest night)
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
To the ground, I'm falling down
I'm stuck here for another day

I'm driving in my car, around town, downtown
Hoping I might find you standing there
Like the star you are
All the guys are in their car
They start to scream your name
It drives me insane

The cold air's coming to take it's place
You see it coming, so embrace
The cold air's coming to take it's place
You see it coming, so embrace

And this is the coldest night of them all (coldest night)
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
To the ground, I'm falling down
I'm stuck here for another day

I gave you everything, and you just walked out on me
I gave you everything
I gave you everything, and you just walked out on me
I gave you everything

And this is the coldest night of them all

The rain will freeze and snow will fall
To the ground, I'm falling down
I'm stuck here for another day

And this is the coldest night of them all (coldest night)
The rain will freeze and snow will fall
To the ground, I'm falling down
I'm stuck here for another day

Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling

Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling (Too many times you're right and I'm wrong)
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling (Too many times I'm right and you're wrong) Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling (Too many times you're right and I'm wrong)
Goodbye with your eyes (Too many times you're right)

Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling
Goodbye with your eyes and their rolling

Too many times you're right and I'm wrong
This time you were right and I was wrong
