"Watchers"

My eyes are closed, my ears are ringing,

This world's the darkest it's ever been.

As I look back at the past, I see it has been wasted.

I carry it with me.

And now I'm going to show the world.

I'll bring you to the lights, I've seen you fall.

So stand up, turn to light.

Stand up.

It's your turn to rise.

Breath hope into me, and show me that there's still a reason for love.

Go on and close your eyes tight we'll stand watch until there's light.
