Malibu by Patricia Paay
Cruisin' all the boulevards
Your money came from playing cards
And in one of those pokerbars
You told me of the moon and stars

And I was deceived by neonlight
When you spoke of rainbownights
Making my life big and bright

Oh, you were born in Hollywood
The mansion cold, the living's good
You own a racehorse Table Two
And a beach house down in Malibu

It sounded too good to be true
But somehow I believed in you
And followed you

And I was so happy
Livin' in the sunshine
In Malibu

The sun was in our eyes
In our little paradise
I had summoned up my life in Malibu

(Malibu) Ohohoho
(Malibu)
Malibu
I was so much in love with you

(Malibu) Too good to be true
(Malibu) But I believed in you
(Malibu) How I loved you

Then suddenly you had to go
For some business down in Mexico
You had no time to explain
But I could expect a little rain

Within an hour the police came
Leaving me here filled with shame
Now Malibu is not the same

And I was so happy
Livin' in the sunshine
In Malibu

The sun was in our eyes
In our little paradise
I had summoned up my life in Malibu

(Malibu) Ohohoho
(Malibu)
Malibu
I was so much in love with you

(Malibu) Lovin' only you
(Malibu) I gave my life to you
(Malibu) Now I lost you

Don't know what to do
I still love you

(Malibu) Too good to be true
(Malibu) But I believed in you
(Malibu) How I loved you

(Malibu) Lovin' only you
(Malibu) I gave my life to you
(Malibu) Now I lost you

(Malibu) Too good to be true
(Malibu) But I believed in you
(Malibu) How I loved you
