

Patty Pravo

"Look At What What Has Done"

Visit "Look At What What Has Done" on MotoLyrics.com

I woke up this morning feeling lonely There's so much my heart just does not understand there were times nothing really mattered now i find i care to much there's life in everything i touch look at what love has done to me i'm not who i used to be everything is changing, and i will never be the same look at what love has done to us when will we ever learn to trust were runnig out of time, so little time baby look at what love has done to me now it's late at night i'm here without you trying to make my way to where you are can't you see i'll still be here waiting can't you see our two hearts were always meant to be as one look at what love done to us
when will we ever learn to trust were running out of time, there's so little time
look at what love has done to me calling out your name [repeat}
look at what love has done to us running out of time Baby look at what love has done to me I'm running out of time, so much

Visit Patty Pravo page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.