I know this life's unkind
Tears will fall and hearts will break
And there are no good reasons why
No comforting words to say
And sometimes all you have
Is the hand you're holding
And a feeling that love will find a way

If I could I'd calm your raging sea
I'd be your shelter from the storm
And I would undo history
And all the casualties
Of your secret wars
But all I really have is the hand you're holding
Are you feeling that?
Love will find a way

Sometimes all we need is the hand we're holding
And to believe
Love will find a way
Love will find a way
Love, we'll find our way
