It happens so easy, in the wink of an eye
The moment you cut the cable
The rest of the world goes drifting by Leaving you high and dry

Your love was there waiting to slip me the key
It's just that behind my curtain
Your love wasn't getting through to me
And setting my spirit free

What started me thinking of changing the plan,
What took me so long to find out
That you only want me as I am?

See how the silence sends it on down to you
Now all you need is to believe it's true

This lesson is over, this message got through
I'm turning the corner
You know that I'm coming back to you
To be the one I can be

I know you told me but I had to find it out for myself
Oh sweet baby I cried
And when I saw the way I hurt you
Saw the tears in your eyes
But now it's different cos I'm learning from my past mistakes
And I never make the same one twice
Listen to me when I tell you this is no disguise

See how etc

This lesson etc
