Out on a wave like a ripple in time
You have become part of this world of mine
Suddenly here, you have appeared
It all makes sense, so perfectly clear

You are the oxygen that fuels my soul
I carry you with me wherever I go

Float on the breath of an eternal wind
You bring me back down to Earth again
Come take my hand, lead me out of this land
Nobody else could help me understand

And now... you have shaken me
And awakened me from death
Now I live as you give to me all you have to give...
