"Priceless Heart"

Visit "Priceless Heart" on MotoLyrics.com

You don't know how much you're worth to me
Your heart is priceless and will always be
How do you put a price on the warmth of the sun
How do you measure the value of oxygen

Silver, gold and platinum, diamonds, jewels
They're all worthless when compared with....
Your priceless heart

No precious metal buried in a mine
No work of art in a gallery, no matter how fine
No vault in a bank filled with currency
Is worth a fraction of what your love means to me

What did I do to deserve a gift so rich as your love

No denomination, no number or amount
Could quantify your love
It's much too great to count
Your love is infinite it has no end
The Earth, the Universe
That's just where your heart begins
