"Sheltered Girl"

She's so naive and innocent
Just like a newborn child
You know I believe she's infinite
I can see it in her smile
When she walks with me and talks with me
About the things we see and hear
It's like every day is a brand new day
And every moment lasts for a year

She's a sheltered girl
Been living her life hiding from the world
She's a sheltered girl
Saving her dreams until she's really sure

She's so refreshing and unrefined
In an uncomplicated way
But she always knows what is on my mind
So I never have to say
When she asks me things, very simple things
That she really ought to know
I can't help myself, I have to catch my breath
Cos it makes me love her so

And I wonder was I sleeping in the shadow of the sun
When she let her love rain down
Rain down on everyone

I'm not a man of the world
And I don't pretend to be
But she makes me feel like it though
With her homespun charm it's no mystery
It's no wonder I love her so
