If the winter was warm
The center would be you
Silhouetted by the blue of the moon
We could change the world

The simplest place is the safest by far
Only in the moments we are
It's the whispers that shiver
And the deaf who deliver
The best news of all

It's the smallest taste
When you close your eyes
Reminds me of your paradise
We could change

The whispers that shiver
And the deaf who deliver
The best news of all

Learn how to take it
Today is not the day
Today is not the day

Learn how to bend the truth
Today is not the day
Today is not the day

Learn how to thrill
To keep yourself alive
Today is not the day
Learn how to survive
