Is it a fate to take or is it just another bad luck the devil plays?
Be careful when you see a full moon lights, the darkest sky and deepest night Without a sound to hear, without a wind to feel, it comes and does
It does it has to do, it takes it wants to take,
Destroys and creates in a brutal way

Too bad that's all to say, so sorry that is all to say, no more to say Every one has take what it does, what it shows and what it gives to him Things you don't want to see, things you don't want to fake or don't want to face Too rough to ignore, too hard to break through,
Too cold to hold, too hot to touch

Remember it, never forget what it did to you and you will learn
Remember it smashes love and hate, it stood alone
when the stars...
Bad stars shone in the gray light of dawn

Things you don't want to see, things you don't want to face or don't want to fake Too rough to ignore, too hard to break through,
Too cold to hold, too hot to touch

will learn
Remember it smashes love and hate, it stands alone
when the stars...
Bad stars shone in the gray light of dawn
Bad stars shone in the grayest light...
Bad stars shone in the grayest light...
