

Paul Janz"Catastrophe Consumer"

Visit "Catastrophe Consumer" on MotoLyrics.com

He's educated by a defense-mechanism
To encase the mind's status
Still he feeds images of catastrophism
To his think-apparatus

Magnitudes of disorder
Grow, inflourishing bloom
Ejecting through sanity's border
Consuming every room

Be, inhales stardust to the innermost fovea
To find a destructive lore
Exhaling exploding supernova
While he constantly press "stare"

Quantities of subversion, echo through the mind
Swarmed by symphony of downfall
Continuing the experiment, impossible to unwind
The addiction, that slowly enthrones senses hall

He's like a chaos machine
Processing the world through darkness
A march into the obscene
The tactful leader? Starkness!

All his dreams are employed
By the conjuration of the scary
This inner state has destroyed
That which was a visionary?

Quantities of subversion, echo through the mind
Swarmed by symphony of downfall
Continuing the experiment, impossible to unwind
The addiction, that slowly enthrones senses hall

Visit Paul Janz page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.