She'll suck on anything you give her
Stare at anything that's shiny bright
Her voice cuts through the sea even when it's stormy
But she's only two feet high - she'll get higher

I hope she sees some things that will make her time
happy
It all comes in so fast it all comes in

She sleeps through almost any sound
Even when it's screaming loud and clear
But she wakes up and smiles at a friendly voice
If it whispers softly in her ear

I see in her new face, a clear beginning
It all comes in so fast it all comes in
She knows who she is without looking
She says it out happy when the feeling is there She's an all new person who says just what she feels She's a fat faced goddess of nowhere

I hope she sees some things that will make her time
It all comes in so fast it all comes in
