No matter what, let's not forget what we have
Death will come someday to separate us...
No matter what, let's try to be brave to take reality as one
But more than one...

No matter what, let's stay the way as we are
Smart enough to start somethin' everyday...
No matter what, let's realize there is somethin'
Somethin' we can not see but we have to feel...

Oneday, someday we will sing
Oneday, we will say we've done it right
Until that day, let's keep the fire burned
(Oh, let the fire burned)
Until that day, let's survey the whole wide world

Facing alternatives, facing alternatives!

Pack all the hope and paddle off there must be somethin' waiting
Leave all the anxieties
Now is the time!

Pack all the hope and paddle off there must be somethin' waiting
Over the horizon
Now is the time!

No matter let's try to learn from the fact

No matter let's try to learn from the fact
No matter let's try to learn from the fact

One day all the answers we will find...

Now as always...
Now as always...

One day we will, one day we will find...
