If I knew that, someone came for me I'd let the world go by Someone, who was true as true could be, I'd never want to Sigh
What would I give today?
Just to hear someone so softly say:

Let the great big world keep turning
Nevermind if I've got you
For I only know, that I want you so
And as no one else will do
You have simply set me yearning
And for ever I'll be true
Let the great big world keep on turning round
Now I found someone like you

Love they say must come to one and all, of high and low degree
Come what may, I'm waiting for the call, it holds no fears for me
Maybe the day is near
When the thought of my heart I'll hear

Let the great big world keep turning
Nevermind if I've got you
For I only know, that I want you so
And as no one else will do
You have simply set me earning
And for ever I'll be true
Let the great big world keep on turning round
Now I found someone like you
