"Grandma's Party"

I brushed my bowler and I grabbed my cane
Eleven thirty I was on my way
The stars are shining bright
And I'm feeling just right for Grandma's party tonight.
Across the city and I reach the spot
The snow was falling in the parking lot
Looks like the whole world's here
For the night of the year
It's Grandma's party tonight.
I tell you everybody's going to the party

Everybody's going to the party
Everybody's going to the party
It's Grandma's party tonight.
The bells are ringing and the captain's here
Mister Sax is swinging from the chandelier
It's almost twelve o'clock and we're ready to rock
At Grandma's party tonight.
I tell you everybody's going to the party

...
Grandma's party
it's Grandma's party

It's Grandma's party tonight.
