We made the perfect day when, we played the night
and sun,

She said she couldn't stay when, her night had just begun.

She wanted me to know what, she didn't know herself,
Said I was wanted by others, hey now that's somethin' else.

She played a vocal mission, I played her cosmic art,
Wanted to paint her picture, she said don't even start.
She said, love's like a drug and that this was chemistry,
But with these chemicals then, how is this good for me?

Her life get's better she read, her name goes out of his head,

Like birds of a feather so he bled, let's go together and she said

So what's the altitude?

I said it's out of sight.

What's with the attitude?

She said it's all right.

So what's the altitude?

I said it's out of sight.

What's with the attitude?

She said it's all right.

She said, let's get away now,
Let's go down by the bay now
She turned her head my way now,
Watch out, what you say now?

Now the things you've been through make it seem like nothing could ever really last forever but if you try,
Girl we could do some things.

She gave me head, phones.

Said have you heard this sound?

I think I've heard this one, it's totally underground.

I wouldn't let her go then,

She wouldn't let me go,

Just ask the neighbours man it's,

Unbelievable.

I've played the morning rising,
She played the setting sun,
She said she couldn't stay when,
Her night had just begun.

So what's the altitude?
I said it's out of sight.
What's with the attitude?
She said it's all right.
So what's the altitude?
I said it's out of sight.
Without a band and we danced,
We partied all night.

We partied all night.
We partied all night.
We partied all night.

We made the perfect day when,
We played the night and sun,
She said she couldn't stay when,
Her night had just begun.

She wanted me to know what,
She didn't know herself,
Said I was one among others,
Hey now that's something else.

We played a vocal mission,
To play the cosmic sky,
How can we make the distance?
You've always known my high.

We're letting people know what,
What we now know ourselves,
That we are one among others,
Hey now that's something else.

She gave me head, phones,
Said have you heard this sound?
You know I've heard this one girl,
Let's get out of town.

This love is like a drug and,
We bonded chemically,
We're letting you know better,
Living through chemistry.
