There's one thing i've learned in life man as u get older thangs change. friends change people change it just how it go man-chorus: i dunno if its jus me did i change did they change its messed up it'll never be the same let me tell u man its nothin like lyour bro today he love you tomorrow u dont know him no more

Verse 1: I got alot of fish to fry but one thing ive learned is you cant teach a fish to fly kiss good bye 'cause on my team its every man for they self im jus tryin to do my best and play the cards i was dealt i reached out my hand for help but i was reachin in vain so i tightened up my belt and paid the price for this fame all playa's pay dues u aint gon' hear me complain i started out wit lots of friends but only a few remain they say i changed but really i just matured and got smarter seems like the realer i get the more these boys get smaller when im around my own partners i sense envy and anger we'll recognize trill and all you boys is strangers

verse 2: ...I remember the shit like yesterday in front of the highs gettin high lookin for the next stage.- Yea i remember that same clothes no books no hoe's all we had was just us damn man i use to like that shit and then we got a deal n i didnt like that shit i told myself that im a fight that shit no matter how long they hate i wont quit damn but thats crazy tho i dont know if its jus me but we was like brothers just different mothers and they switched up should i love em or hate em i aint changed just changed cituations. and thats y i only got a few partners 'cause niggas dont know how to act and i loose partners and time change everything but back than it was us against them and the shit should of neva

Dear Lord i need your blessin so im askin for help to handle all these cituations that come wit this wealth my girlfriend is cheatin on me wit my ex best friend so now im takin applications for my next best friend i gotta keep my composure and hold it together i survived the stormy weather thangs can only get better i shoulda brought a sweater 'cause warm hearts turn cold boys changin sets like oragami but i refuse to fold truth be told theres problems that follow money boys changin like the hour friendships turned sour phiny smiles ...and alot of fake love but im sturdy in my position paul wall wont budge. Nah
