This is what I thought you said
Talking on the phone
Just walk away and cry
For so long

The holidays we spent will fade
Now that I've been gone
Just remember that we met
You're still at home

Listen to the voice that says a-a-alright
This is start and not the end tonight

You said that [Incomprehensible] was away
Reach across the sky
So close the windows, we stay
But not at home

Times like this you wonder why
It's even worth your while
Just count the silence, these days
Until you smile

Listen to the voice that says a-a-alright
This is start and not the end tonight
Listen to the voice that says a-a-alright
This is start and not the end tonight
