i might drift off and if i do then my voice will carry dear and if i can't hold a melody that isn't interesting, then why cant i put to my name maybe its going to be ashame and if, and if i melt my hair with a flame and if this candlelight only brings me to the top of my eye game but me telling you i vow my stories and you know that i dealt with my own shit can you hear the keyboard clicks? or is it just me?
i need another chemical fix, im running on empty and i just cant see whats wrong with me and i am shaking but not out of desperation
and i am shaking
maybe it is desperation and denial is on my brain and i cant think twice cuz if i do then maybe i would sacrifice what i found in the first place. and keeping still is hard and you know i just cant do it any longer, its just so hard to get through it i wish i had a sheet where i was reading all these lyrics off of but i dont and there's no music in the background i only got a flame thats lighting up my face and hopefully making attractive places seem closer to me this is just my sorry attempt to being sexy can you hear it in my tone? can you tell me on the telephone? can you sense an awkward pause when i cant seem to think of the next word thats gonna strain from my lips and you know that i just cant figure out whats gonna be my next fix could it be a cigarette? no i quit.

i dont know that you can think of me too and all the ladies and gentlemen this song will be through soon dont, dont break and dont tell us what you wanna do you need to be fake to understand how i feel understand what im going through to maybe realize what i am thinking is real, real, real this it where it picks up picks up picks up this it where it repeats repeats repeats every word that i must say and maybe you might think of what i do i do i do maybe im right im right im right i might stress a little bit i might sh sh shiver and you might think twice about what you do cuz you might lose what you maybe think about hey hey and maybe if i lit this match a little earlier and maybe if i lit this wax a little later maybe everything would be different and maybe maybe we call it the butterfly effect. we call it ah ah call it ah ah we call it a deep breath and the stereo that cant catch me and a passion and a passion that cant stay on.
