Ahhh the sun beats down on the tan on my well fed body, And the fisherman at the end of the pier will strike a chord of curiosity with their thick lines Yeah, they've caught something big And they ask me if "I could lend a hand?"

chorus

I want you to see, what I, what I could not see and I want you know, what I, what I couldn't know the most beautiful thing I'd ever seen, and she smiling back at me

she was eight feet long and she weighed four hundred twenty pounds and I named all her children in hopes that they would obtain some degree of her perfection and it would take them all two years to hit the water

chorus

she, she's not coming back and thats why I sing this song! the most beautiful thing I'd ever seen

chorus
