Imagine a place only your soul can vision
The heart of a child who looks, sees and listens
She paints a picture using every color
And what she sees, sh sees is like no other

Chorus:

One word, a voice unheard
You can change the world
With everything i know your made of
One word, a voice unheard
You can change the world

If everyone would stop and listen
The art of innocence makes so much sense
But placed in the wrong hands, then its wasted
Filtered through the eyes of a pure mind
A one-of-a-kind paradise for you and I

Chorus
