What's up girl, this Payaso, check it out, got some things I wanna let you know, so listen up

As I sit here, with my paper and pen, thinking of words to rhyme, that come from within, these feelings of joy, the agony the pain, these thoughts cross my mind when I hear your name when will I see you again hope the memories last like the oldie songs playing on from the past cuz the radio now can't really describe the way I feel about you deep down inside cuz I kill for your love, I steal for your love, I lie for your love, girl I die for your love, I can't live without you so why you treat me so bad sometimes I hate love when you make me so mad

Even though I can't buy you those fancy things, brand new cars and them diamond rings, I don't care what anybody else thinks, I dedicate this to my everything, even though I can't buy you those fancy things, brand new cars and them diamond rings, I don't care what anybody else thinks, you still my baby doll, still my everything girl

Now where I sat down and wrote a song about us, a song about love, a song about trust, what about lust? And what about heart? I have to think back, to where it all start, remember baby girl way back in the day, we use to hold hands and walk together that way, use to call me at night and we talked till light dam I never knew what true love would be like sometimes we fight, but we'd make up quick cuz without you by my side it would make me sick, jealousy when I see guys looking at you, but deep down I know that your heart is true

Yeah, even gangsters need love, the kind of angel baby that's send from above your in love with a thug don't deny reality you like bad boys so that's how it had to be don't be mad at me for the things I do cuz no matter what happens I come home to you my heart is true blue it's all for you cuz no other hyna could do the things you do it's like a spell baby girl I'm hypnotize every time I stare deep in those pretty brown eyes so girl realize what I'm saying is real give me some kind of sign let me know the deal... Payaso

Even though I can't buy you those fancy things, brand new cars and them diamond rings, I don't care what anybody else thinks, I dedicate this to my everything, even though I can't buy you those fancy things, brand
anybody else thinks, you still my baby doll, still my everything girl
