I'll tame this lion of flesh before the night is over
My love will not let me rest until my mind is sober
Reputations from my past chained so tight
You break free you break fast on my decision tonight
Formerly known as nothing and and no one
Formerly known as lost
I've been sold to lies I've been told by former generations
Who tell me what's worth having a hold on for cheap sensations
But you ask me at this moment who I say I am
A new creation they don't have to understand
I will not be bound by what they tell me I can be
I will not stay silent I will speak my liberty
