the settling of my every step inching off of the earth
is magnified
by the things i've done
the thing that i've become

every lift of my hand
coffee cup and back
the things i've seen
the things i've caused
i'm a dead man walking

the hammer that i once brung down now hovers over me
casts a shadow
a cross onto me

the hallways are all mocking me what i've become
they're all mocking me
a dead man walking

dead man walking
