"Come With Me"

Stare at her lips, they start to shake
As her voice breaks the awkward silence
She says if you don't mind I'd like to wait
Just another day to see what happens

Come with me, we'll ruin all your dreams
I'm everything you never wanted
Everything you need
Come with me, forget everything

You'll never know, you'll never know
This is your chance to be
Everything you never thought you'd be

Til you lose control, til you lose control
This is your chance to be
Everything you never thought you'd be

And when we met it was dark and cold
There she stood alone waiting for her love
I wonder should I drive her home
Or just rip off her clothes, I wanna rip off her clothes

Come with me, we'll ruin all your dreams
I'm everything you never wanted
Everything you need
Come with me, forget everything

You'll never know, you'll never know
This is your chance to be
Everything you never thought you'd be

Til you lose control, til you lose control
This is your chance to be
Everything you never thought you'd be
