On and on these hollow bells
Sing their song and say farewell
To a world that's moved along
Hear them sing when hope is gone

Hiding in abandoned halls
Shadows dance on lonely walls
Fires in the distant night
Silhouettes on burning skies

Tell me, do you believe we're forsaken
Do you believe that somehow, someday this will end

Secrets from our ruined past
Silent seas are calm at last
Navigate without the stars
Echoes tremble in the dark

Silver threads that link our hearts
Come undone and fall apart
Lost beneath an empty night
Hope that there's just one more life

Tell me, do you believe we're forsaken
Do you believe that somehow, someday this will end
Tell me, do you believe we're forsaken
Do you believe that somehow, someday this will end
