

Pentalithium

"Firewater"

Visit "Firewater" on MotoLyrics.com

I cannot tell if it's best for me,
But if it is,
Try not to wake me from my sleep,
I might wake up in screams,
Like the first time I saw your face,
You ran away,
And tried to hide from all those days,
For I knew that

Maybe all the water has turned into fire,
Maybe no one knows, so they all desire the truth
After all the water has turned into fire,
After they all know then no one will desire you

You're acting like a mystery,
Like a rolling wheel,
Trying to hide just not to tell,
To the fade away
Fade away!

Maybe all the water has turned into fire,
Maybe no one knows, so they all desire the truth,
After all the water has turned into fire,
After they all know then no one will desire, you

[Solo]
Maybe all the water has turned into fire,
Maybe no one knows, so they all desire the truth, (no,
no, no)
After all the water has turned into fire,
After they all know then no one will desire, you (no, no,
no)
Maybe all the water has turned into fire,
Maybe no one knows, so they all desire the truth, (no,
no, no)
After all the water has turned into fire,
After they all know then no one will desire, you (no, no,
no)

Visit Pentalithium page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

