(Tennant/Lowe/Clinton)

It is not easy

It is not easy

Looking from a window

At the back of a house

At the edge of a town

It's grey

Like the day

When I lost it

Clouds overhead

I talked to a flower

That was almost dead

My body a prison

Why did I do it?

Someone told me not to

But still went through it

It is not easy

But don't give up now

It is not easy

Happiness is an option

Needed somewhere to clear

My head

Find some strength

A warmer bed

Maximum love in a

Minimal world

I'd never achieved it

But then I believed it

So when I lost it - how?

I'm not sure now -

It was a strange feeling

Like a paw repealing itself

It is not easy

But don't give up now

It is not easy

Happiness is an option

It is not easy
But don't give up now
It is not easy
Happiness is an option

I can wake up in the morning
And not believe what I see
Look in the mirror
And think if that's really me
I don't think I suit my face
It's not a catastrophe
It's more a philosophy
Like the Russians
Wondering why
We're born under a blue sky
But die in a dark forest

It is not easy
But don't give up now
It is not easy
Happiness is an option
It is not easy
But don't give up now
It is not easy
Happiness is an option

This is neither old nor new
It's always, forever
Somewhere between sense
And ambition
Pleasure and decision
We have to make a choice
What do we want?
Everyone singing
"War, what is it good for?"
While planning the next one?

I don't need to win
You don't have to lose
We can choose
Happiness is an option

It is not easy
But don't give up now
It is not easy
Happiness is an option

It is not easy
The war within us
But it gets easier
The more we learn

I don't need to win
You don't need to lose
We can choose
Happiness is an option

It is not easy
But don't give up now
It is not easy
Happiness is an option
I don't need to win
You don't need to lose
We can choose
