Just give me five more minutes please to go over these lines

This time I know I have to get it right
Cuz she's the type of girl who flourishes on sentences unfinished and I know that she will walk all over me

Cuz she walks a fine line between crazy and confused
But either way I guess I'm more of both
Cuz every time that she walks in I swear the ground beneath my feet caves in
Yeah I'm so engulfed in her

Just give me one more chance I screamed I know I'll get it right
It's a lot to say for a boy who's bad with words
And I know there's so much riding on tonight. I'll do my best I promise you that, but Babe, my best's never been good enough for you

Cuz she walks a fine line between crazy and confused
But either way I guess I'm more of both
Cuz every time that she walks in I swear the ground beneath my feet caves in yeah
And I'm so engulfed in her

Yeah I'm so engulfed in her
And my best's just never been good enough
No my best's just never been good enough
My best's just never been good enough for her
