I've been a drinking, biding my time;
I've loaded and wasted, by my design
I've been using myself, like I only I can,
but I understand that you understand.

Cos just for a moment, I found my peace;
just for a moment, I came across me;
everything is, and there's nothing a-missing,
well just for a moment, I found my bliss.

Just for a moment I found my peace;
well just for a moment, I came across me;
everything is, and there's nothing a-missing;
just for a moment, I was complete.
