The time will come, yes I know
You will come walkin' home
And you'll find my address
Expectin' my caress

But darlin' things have changed
Things have changed
Please don't come around
Destroyin' happiness I've found
Things have changed

You left me once without a word
And left me lookin' so absurd
Now I've found my way around
Get my feet back on the ground

Darlin' things have changed
Things have changed
Please don't come around
Destroyin' the happiness I've found
Things have changed

The only thing I think about you
But all the same I can live without you
Things have changed
Things have changed

Things have changed
Things have changed
Things have changed
Things have changed
