I can hardly believe you when you say that you love me
'Cause it's been a long time that I've been inclined
And now that you're here, my heart stops aching

Ah, it's only natural
So natural to love you

When I look into your deep eyes and you say that you love me
I feel such a thrill, the world seems to still I surrender myself to the pleasure I'm taking

Everybody's left talking to themselves
Everybody's left talking to themselves
All I hear is nothing
I hope they understand where I am

Ah, it's only natural
So natural 'cause I love you

Oh! You make me feel something
When you say that you love me
All my thoughts fade away
Concentration strays
Like a boat leaves a port when it's line is breaking

My lips land kisses upon your face
When you say that you love me
And then time won't exist
I'm lost in our kiss
Ascend into space with this love we are making
