(Chorus)

Why do I try over and over and over again
Why do I try so hard
Trying to be the man that you love is tearing me apart

Why do I try living that life when I know it's only a lie
Call me stupid call me fake
Cause falling in love isn't a choice we make
And getting hurt is the chance we take when we try

Do you hear the screams only walls still remember?
Do you drown on the tear on the pages of your life?
Do you freeze in the pit of passion?
Do you yearn the burn of the scars that still show and the end they offer?

(Chorus)

What do I say when she tells me she loves me?
How do I say with every step that I take, to you,
I pay the mistakes that I made on that rainy day.
You better be sure.
I better be sure.
Are you sure?
Am I sure?
You are sure.
I am sure.
I don't have to try anymore.
I don't have to try so hard,
Cause trying to be the man that you love almost tore me apart
Take it easy, just be me, wait and see it will be what sets you free.
