She can't go back the way she came
There's a part of her, no one will ever tame
She likes to feel the flame

Don't try to change her
She's in no danger
It's just the world getting stranger
And we all get confused

She's done everything she can
Remembers every road she ran
Lord I understand

Don't try to change her
She's in no danger
It's just the world getting stranger
And we all get consused

And the wrong touch could kill her
And the right touch could still her
And the right love will fill her
With all that she needs

Life has a dark side
Life has a bright side
I'm in for the long ride
Wherever it leads

Don't try to change her
She's in no danger
It's just the world getting stranger
And we all get confused
