What if I had my reasons?
An alibi to stay free
What if I would let you see me?
Would you then take a chance of me?

I would like to bridge this distance
And be all I wish to be

I had to lie to lead you off
I hate goodbyes, I made them stop
I had to lie to lead you off
My will to try to overrun by fear
I'm still here

I would like to bridge this distance
And be all I wish to be

I had to lie to lead you off
I hate the goodbyes, I made them stop
I had to lie to lead you off
My will to try to overrun by fear
I'm still here

Reduced to half, I'm living half ways
A place where no one leaves a trace
I would love to bridge this distance
To welcome others to this place
