"Who Am I"

The buildings reach up to the sky
The traffic thunders on the busy street
Pavement slips beneath my feet
I walk alone and wonder "Who am I?"

I close my eyes and I can fly
And I escape from all this worldly strife
Restricted by routine of life
But still, I can't discover who am I

I long to wake up in the morning and find everything
has changed
And all the people that I meet don't wear a frown
But every day is just the same, I'm chasing rainbows in
the rain
All the dreams that I believe in let me down

Maybe I'm reaching far too high
For I have something else entirely free
The love of someone close to me
Unfettered by the world that hurries by
To question such good fortune, who am I?

I long to wake up in the morning and find everything
has changed
And all the people that I meet don't wear a frown
But every day is just the same, I'm chasing rainbows in
the rain
All the dreams that I believe in let me down

Maybe I'm reaching far too high
For I have something else entirely free
The love of someone close to me
Unfettered by the world that hurries by
To question such good fortune, who am I?
