Do you remember my story?
The reason I brought you here?
Do you recall the blind deception?
Or why my tongue still tastes of fear?
You saw it all yet recall nothing?
Tell me...

I took the hand of greed we walked together side by side
And the mist turned to blood as I opened my hollow eyes

Here I live while your will dies.
Tied your hands and taped your eyes.
I was there for the death of hope
I remember the loss of faith
This light that I've found comes by the grace of darkness
Love turns to torture and I am alive

Your mind was clouded in haze
Sleepless in unending days
They came for you, both good and the evil Fate unfolded and you lay still
I know this because

I was there for the death of hope
You must remember the loss of faith
The promise of love broken by blade and bullet
Danger unnoticed in the face of fear.

You couldn't kiss them goodbye
Dead long before you would die
They came for you with their cold and shaking hands
Yet I still do not understand
Why I was there...

Oh
Now I can see...
