Intro: Close your eyes, tell me what do you see? Can you set your soul free, can you taste victory? Picture me rolling, picture you and me- Up in the sky sitting on top no need to even ask why. This is what we deserve. This is what we have earned; Destiny awaits, as it sits by the gate. Dreams do come true, even for me and you; Just believe in it baby, you know that I do.

Chorus:

I see the way you look at me, as if you hate the look of me. If you want me to change, I'll change, But as long as you remain the same. You don't have to look at me, so don't you fkin look at me. Cause I'll never change, never change, And we both know who's the one to blame.

Verse 1

Blowing smoke in the air, not giving a ___ Women holler like hello dear and I'm about to go buck. Popping bottles of vodka, just keep filling my cup. Haters eye ball me all the time and I look at 'em like what. I'm doing quickies like Vavi, Understand me like I see- you can't stop what I'm doing no matter how you despise me; but I do apologize if I made you upset; promised I'ma kill the game and I ain't made it yet. But still my mind is set and I don't ever forget, What it is that I live for so please don't you doubt me yet. See I'm stuck on ambition, filled with hunger and pride; Never felt more motivated never felt more alive. Seasons come and seasons go come rain or snow, You'll never change the way I am no matter the lengths that you go, No matter the procedures you take, No matter the necks that you break, I've got my heart at stake, so change will just have to wait- uh-

Chorus:

I see the way you look at me, as if you hate the look of me. If you want me to change, I'll change, But as long as you remain the same. You don't have to look at me, so don't you fkin look at me. Cause I'll never change, never change, And we both know who's the one to blame.

Verse 2:

Looking into my son's eyes- man God is great. This kid is surely a blessing- make no mistake. If I could make his dreams come true- wouldn't that be great? Be the type of father to take him fishing or just hang by the lake. Two-bit hoes is a no-no, I don't play like that. I've left my past in the past, and I'm not bringing it back. I hate the look that I get, when I've done you wrong. I'm tryna be a better man so baby please hold on. Now I see a change in me, All for the better baby for you and me, Now I'm looking for something, for something sweet, No I will never sway I'm steady on my feet. Kid rappers playing the field while I'm coaching the game; Phenom/spectacular homie that's one in the same. No time to baby sit you fools I'm on that grown folk business; Change it up, next level, write your name on my hit list.

Chorus:

I see the way you look at me, as if you hate the look of me. If you want me to change, I'll change, But as long as you remain the same. You don't have to look at me, so don't you fkin look at me. Cause I'll never change, never change, And we both know who's the one to blame.
