When I opened your letter yesterday
I could not believe my eyes Cause I've already given all I have to give
And I think it must have slipped your mind

But I remember not so long ago
I gave it all, it's gone
And I gave it all to you Now I'm living on borrowed time, but it's mine

(chorus)
Oh did you hear me?
I cannot believe it's true
Are you really doing
the things you do?
No I cannot believe
it's you, really you

Oh these people I'm talking to don't understand They don't seem to realize They're listening but they're not hearing me They're being too cruel to be kind

Any kind of feeling that I had is gone Cause I gave it all, it's gone
And I gave it all to you
Now I'm living on borrowed
time, but it's mine

(chorus)

Over and over I
keep on telling myself
Over and over I hope I'm gonna make up Over and over I

know it's really happening
And there's nothing
that I can say

Cause nothing can change all the things that you've done to me
Nothing can make me stay

Oh cause you know
I cannot believe it's true
Are you really doing
the things you do?
No I cannot believe
it's you, really you

I know it's a crying shame
it's all the same to you
It seems all so well laid out but I cannot get through never meant it to show
It started happening that's all you know.

Oh I gave it all to you
Now I'm living on borrowed
time, but it's mine

(chorus)

Over and over I
keep on telling myself
Over and over I
hope i'm gonna make up
But over and over I know it's really happening
And there's nothing
that I can say Cause nothing can change all the things that you do to me
Nothing can make me stay

Cause you know
I cannot believe it's true
Are you really doing
the things you do?
No I cannot believe
it's you, really you
