I've been doing some thinking, here on my own it's been on my mind this debt I owe to you I have to repay in kind

But I can't find my way

Tired and weary, I follow the path that leads to your door but it occurred to me, all that I have is already yours

But I can't find my way

Oh, just to sit a while Oh, just to sit and watch you smile

Keep the faith you say to keep the faith I pray be strong you say just follow the light

Wheels keep turning but the close I get the farther I seem peace will only come finding the peace within But I can't find my way
