It's never where you think you'll find it
Thing you think you're looking for
It could take you all your lifetime
And still you'd never quite be sure

But you could look everywhere
'Cause you know it's there
Somewhere beneath the sky
Too close and you'll get burned
There's no lesson learned
Yet some people pass it by

You'll see things different when you look thru my eyes
Things are different if you see what I see
Just look closely and you'll see thru my eyes
It could be different, you'll see how it could be, if you can see

You may need help to find your way home
Those who brought you here have flown
The road you take is full of hope or sadness
The choice you make will be your own

You're not alone in there
Just say hello in there
'Cause there are many just like you
They'll help you find someday
To make it all the way
Tell you all you have to do

You'll see things different when you look thru my eyes
Things are different if you see what I see
Just look closely and you'll see thru my eyes
It could be different, you'll see how it could be, if you
can see

No one warns you of the heartache
No one can hide you from the storm
But from the shadows there will come the sunshine
A place to dry and keep you warm

Though no one tells you how

Your heart's beating faster, now
Getting stronger day by day
Suddenly, it's clear
What you seek is near
It's what you learn along the way, oh

It's never where you think you'll find it
Thing you think you're looking for
Well, it could take you all your lifetime
Still you'll never quite be sure

You'll find it, you'll find it, look closely
You'll find it, look closely, you'll see it
You'll find it, you'll find it, you'll find it
If you'll look closely, look closely, look closely, look closely
You will find it
