Can't tell you in full
What a secret will do
In a world of fiction everything is true
And too much trouble
Won't be enough
To get to the place where the end had begun
Emotions are blind
But now I'm fine

You lay yourself down
On a track of lies
And you know where that leads
You're looking for something
You've been trying to hide
But your lips are sealed

A soul's made of love
And love's made of time
So except for the end there's no limits for life
When things go bad
There's nowhere to cross
Don't forget the truth, or miss your train of thoughts
Emotions are blind
And now I'm fine

You lay yourself down
On a track of lies
And you know where that leads
You're looking for something
And your lips are sealed
Yeah you lay yourself down
On a track of lies
That's how a secret feels

Yeah you lay yourself down
On a track of lies
And you know where that leads
You're looking for something
But your lips are sealed

Hey yeah you lay yourself down
On a track of tears
It's how a secret feels
Yeah you lay yourself down
On a track of lies
But your lips are sealed

Don't forget the truth, or miss your train of thoughts
When things go bad
There's nowhere to cross
Don't forget the truth, or miss your train of thoughts
When things go bad
When things go bad
When things go bad
