Met her a million years ago
Maybe it was yesterday
She was the queen of teen and sweet doomsday
With the flower face

There's nothing easier than her smile
There's nothing harder to forget
But when they put you on the witch trial
Girl, you lost your head
(You lost your head)

How can I bring you back?
Please tell me what to do
My sweet dark angel
When did your world turn black?
You smeared your powder blue
My sweet dark angel
My sweet dark angel

Sometimes and now she lets me know
Baby's slippin' away, yeah, yeah
Left school to lose herself in the shadows
Of her broken days

There's nothing easier than her smile
There's nothing harder to forget
But when they put you on the witch trial
Girl, you lost your head
(You lost your head)

How can I bring you back
When I don't have a clue?
My sweet dark angel
When did your world turn black?
You smeared your powder blue
My sweet dark angel
My sweet dark angel

There's nothing easier than her smile
There's nothing harder to forget
And like the last star in the morning
I'm losing you, my friend

(Losing you, my friend)
Losing you, my friend

How can I bring you back?
Please tell me what to do
My sweet dark angel
When did your world turn black?
You smeared your powder blue
My sweet dark angel
My sweet dark angel

How can I bring you back?
How can I bring you back?
How can I bring you back?
How can I bring you back?
