Could it be with rascal words
Listen to but never heard?
What will care we say without a voice?

Further down the road we see
Blessed with this technology
Welcome to the industry of noise

Deeper underground we hide
In this state of our denial
How we fell from grace with no remorse

Everyday our conscious slave
If we call and fade away
Now it seems we don't have a choice

Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending

On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and

Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending

On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and

Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending
Never ending, never ending

On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and
On and on and, on and on and
